02 / REST & RECONNECT

Two bedrooms. Two distinct moods.

Bedroom 1 brings a romantic warmth to your stay with a wooden four-poster king bed, exposed ceiling beams, an upholstered bench and an inviting armchair. An arched glazed opening frames the greenery, while decorative lighting and a patterned rug add softness and character.

Bedroom 2 pairs a dark wooden king bed with cushioned window-side seating. Layered textiles, bedside lamps and a broad arched opening create a restful setting for late mornings and quiet moments overlooking the tea landscape.

Bathroom 1

Pale marble-patterned finishes, a generous vanity and mirror, and a glass shower enclosure beside an arched window.

Bathroom 2

Patterned tiles, a dark decorative vanity and an arched window give the second bathroom its own elegant identity.

Bedroom names follow the source gallery. Confirm bathroom connections, extra-guest bedding and mobility requirements with reservations before booking.

03 / LIFE AT MELROSE

Warm interiors. Green horizons.

A soaring lancet window makes the dining area one of the villa's most memorable spaces. Stone flooring, wooden furniture, patterned chairs and woven pendant lighting set the scene for leisurely breakfasts and intimate dinners.

The fireplace and small library offer reasons to linger indoors. Outside, the decorative white gazebo with its green roof overlooks the tea estate, creating a lovely setting for sunrise, conversation and watching mist drift across the hills.

Let the hills set the pace

Explore the quieter Kattabettu surroundings, with Rallia Dam approximately 2.5 km away by road. Further outings include Sim's Park, Lamb's Rock, Dolphin's Nose and the heritage mountain railway at Coonoor. Tea-factory visits depend on visitor access and advance arrangements.

A private car or pre-booked taxi is recommended for sightseeing. These attractions are road excursions from the villa, rather than immediate walking-distance landmarks.
